

1995 40 CFR Base Analysis Table

The electronic base files for the 40 CFR pilot originate from the July 1, 1995 edition of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The following table is the 1995 Base Analysis Table for the 1995 40 CFR Pilot electronic structure. This table matches the file structure down to the level that will be replaced when revisions are required due to amendments, revisions, additions, or deletions published in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

In future years, as revised editions of Title 40 of the CFR are released, a CFR Update Analysis Table has been developed as a means to communicate to the user, which electronic files have been updated. Using the List of CFR Sections Affected for June of each year, impacted files will be replaced as soon as the final published book version of the coded files becomes available from the Office of the Federal Register. Symbolic enhancements will be used in the analysis table to indicate changed areas for which revised files have been incorporated.

The 1995 CFR Base Analysis Table is organized to the Part level or Subpart level for large files. As resources permit and size dictates, larger Parts are being broken into Subparts. This work will utilize the latest available version in replacing the old structure even if all the files are not revised during the latest update period.

The following symbolic enhancements are being used in the base analysis table:

BASE LEGEND:

(Rsvd) indicates Subparts and Appendices that are “Reserved.”

(Restr) indicates Parts that have been “Restructured.”

(G) indicates Parts containing graphics.

For further explanation of the analysis tables, see “About the 40 CFR Analysis Tables.

The CFR files are available in portable document format (PDF). The files are not available in ASCII format due to the complexity of the tables, equations, and unavailability of graphics. For further information, see “About PDF Files.”
